The Worst Day Ever
By
Micah Larson and Brian Sams

Characters:

Dr. Worst- A man who dreams of being a super villain but always ends up accidentally doing good things instead
Sam- Dr. Worst's abducted/adopted son and partner in "crime"
TV Reporter- Over the top doesn't even begin to describe this guy
Mayor- A self important man who tries to give Dr. Worst the key to the city
Presenter- A mansplainer who tries to present Dr. Worst with the Turing Award
Nobel Peace Prize Guy- Tries to give the NPP to Dr. Worst

Summary: Dr. Jonathan B. Worst has a troubled past - as a genius child who was the victim of bullying. As such he has sworn to take revenge on the world through a series of evil schemes - all of which backfire and end up serving humanity in some way. Only his relationship with his abducted - and then adopted - son can help him to realize his true nature.

Dr. Worst: HAHAHA! And now, just a bit of manganese and smidgin of chromium, perhaps a drop of giant squid ink for good measure… and we're done Sam!

Sam: What's the plan this time, Dad?

Dr: We're doing evil deeds in our evil lab on Skullcrusher Mountain, Sam....When we're working, you are supposed to call me Sir!

Sam: Oh, right. Sorry, Sir. What's the plan?

Dr: When this formula is released into the city's water supply system, it will stop all water flow in the city! If it works here, we'll go national, and bring this country to its knees! Then, they will recognize the evil genius of Jonathan B. Worst! And then we'll have ice cream to celebrate! Would you like that? Haha! Open the valve!

Sam: Okay… (Opens valve)

Dr: And now we play the waiting game. Or Clue. I love Clue. Where's my coffee? (Takes a big sip)

(Cut to the TV turning on)

TV Reporter: This just in: the city's failing water pipes have been miraculously reinforced and the dangerous contaminants are completely gone!

Dr: (Spits out coffee)

Reporter: What mysterious hero intervened to save our fair city? Stay tuned as our panel debates who our secret benefactor might be.

DR: (Mutters while he cleans up coffee) Ohhh, I should have gone with my original evil plan and just built a bunch of Dollar Stores.

Intro here:

Sam: Someone's at the door, Sir. I'll get it. (Opens door)

Mayor: Hello, I'm the Mayor, I've come to present a key to the City to Dr. Worst.

Dr.: Ooooh, let me see that…(Walks over to the door, takes the key, chucks it into the lab, and slams the door in the Mayor's face.)

Sam: Jeez, Sir. That was kinda rude.

Dr.: There's a reason we live on Skullcrusher Mountain my boy. Keeps the riffraff away. Look, Sam, as an innocent orphan boy, I made a spectacular science fair volcano. It was supposed to expel lava quite impressively. Instead, it barely erupted at all, and the perfect little children laughed at me and called it the Pimple of Doom. Did anyone care that the lava was also a cure for dandruff? No! On that day I swore to take my revenge and that the world would take me seriously!

Sam: And how's that been going for you, Sir?

Dr.: Sigh Not so good, Sam. There have been… setbacks.Time for a new plan. Fetch me the Notorious Notecards of Not Niceness, Sam. (Sam gives him the cards) Yes, yes, some very good, I mean very EVIL ideas in here, Sam. Let's see… Ooh, kidnapping and ransom!

Sam: You tried that, Sir. You kidnapped me.

Dr.: Oh, yes. Turns out you were in a very toxic and abusive home… Ended up paying those people quite a lot to let me keep you… Ah, remember the Wifi password caper! I added a 1 to everyone's password. Took them a while to figure that one out!

Sam: Yes, Sir. Everyone spent quality time with friends and family. You and I played frisbee golf and got churros.

Dr.: Must you rub salt in my wounds, Sam? …That was a great day. Oho! I forgot about this nugget! Haven't tried this one yet… The AK-47!

Sam: The AK-47?

Dr.: It took me 46 failed attempts, (Opens a drawer and removes object - it is not an AK-47) but the Autocorrect Killer 47 is ready to go with the push of a button! (Holds it out to Sam, then jerks it away) But not that button! That's the self-destruct button! Push that and oh boy you'll regret that!

Sam: Why is it so much bigger than the start button? Sir, this reminds me of the SuperSpammer 2000…

Dr.: Which was supposed to spam call every phone in the world simultaneously with extended warranty offers!

Sam: But instead…

Dr.: It short circuited every spam calling system worldwide…the peace and quiet was almost unbearable! Just push the button, Sam! No! Not that one!

Sam: Just messing with you, Sir. (Pushes button)

Dr: Nice one. You got me.

TV Reporter: This just in: mobile device users worldwide report that autocorrect no longer wreaks havoc with texts! Experts suspect the work of Dr. Jonathan B….

Dr.: Turn the TV off, Sam!

Sam: You programmed it to turn on if there was news related to your plans…

Dr.: (Exasperated) Aaaah. (Rubs his temples in frustration)

(Doorbell rings)

Sam: The door, Sir.

Presenter: Hello, we are from the Association of Computing Machinery, we're here to present you with the Turing Award, the world's most prestigious computer coding award…

Dr.: Haven't we met?

Presenter: We tried to give you an award for your Stoplight code…

Dr.: That was supposed to turn every stoplight in the world red!

Presenter: Instead it made traffic systems 75% more efficient! You saved people time and reduced carbon emissions! Dr. Alan Turing was…

Dr.: You don't have to tell ME who Alan Turing was… Fine. Give it to me. Now, thank you! And get out! (Slams door.) This day keeps getting worse, Sam. We need a game changer! (Flips through notecards) Hmmmm. Do I dare?

Sam: What did you find, Sir?

Dr.: Remember when we binge-watched Friends (or insert show of your choice here) and you were too tired to go to school?

Sam: And you created a snow day with, what was it? The ReFreezinator? We made cocoa. And a snowman.

Dr.: And I sang "Let it go" until you got quite annoyed…Well, I sort of scaled up the ReFreezinator…

Sam: That doesn't sound like a very good idea… The door again, Sir.

Dr.: Skullcrusher Mountain! Who wants to go to Skullcrusher Mountain? What is wrong with you people?

NPP: Hello, we're from the Nobel Peace Prize Comm….

Dr.: Shhh! Sit down! Not there, that's the cat's chair. She's not here right now, but she knows. Now, Sam! The ReFreezinator control!

Sam: Here it is, but Da….Sir, I don't think…

Dr. : And you. Mr. Nobel Prize! You can have the honor of pushing the button that will bring the world to its knees! No, not the big one! (He jerks the controller away from the presenter, very annoyed) That's clearly labeled! (Presenter pushes the correct button) Aha! Now, watch as the temperature tanks and the planet is plunged into a new Ice Age!

TV Reporter: This just in: Worldwide temperature drops 5 degrees and shocks and delights climate scientists.

NPP: Congratulations, Dr. Worst. The planet is on its knees in thanks for your efforts to combat global temperature rise…

Dr.: Get. Out. Now. Or I will turn you into a half monkey - half giraffe - half hippopotamus!

NPP: That's three halves!

Dr.: (Menacingly) Oh…I KNOW!

(NPP Leaves. Dr. is utterly despondent.)

Dr.: Why? Why must I face constant failure? Everyone is laughing at me!

Sam: (Holding a clipboard with papers) You know Sir, I've been going over the data… it seems that almost every time you've created an evil plan you've forgotten something simple - like to carry the one. So… how much was the temperature supposed to drop?

Dr.: 50 degrees. Are you saying I misplaced a decimal? I would never commit an error like that!

Sam: I completely agree... But, do you remember when you were attempting to make a witch, and instead raised thousands of dollars for the Make-a-Wish Foundation.

Dr.: A simple typo. It could happen to anyone! But can you imagine what it would be like if just one of my plans worked! Glorious! They would all be sorry then! Oh, those kids. The ones who laughed at me. And my poor little Pimple of Doom.

Sam: They probably don't even remember that, Sir.

Dr.: Probably not. Those idiots probably think I'm some sort of Boy Scout do gooder, Fools!

Sam: Sir, what if, deep down, you don't really want to be evil? What if you are a Boy Scout do gooder?

Dr.: Not be evil!? It's my life's work! I've got this lair, and I've made up all these notecards…Skullcrusher Mountain! Sure, I mean… We could really make some kid's wishes come true with that Nobel Prize money. But no! I'm too old, and it's too late.

Sam: It's never too late to become who you really are, Sir.

Dr.: Ah… you know, kidnapping you was the smartest thing I've ever done. Just, uh, just call me Dad from now on.

Sam: Okay, Dad. Now what? (He looks at a notecard) Do you still want to build these Dollar Stores?

Dr: I'm not evil anymore, right?

Sam: No.

Dr.: Then no... but one thing's for sure: we're gonna have to rename this stupid mountain!
